ARE WE THERE YET?
15 five-star itineraries—kids included.
By Rhoda Glenmore

W hat’s your pleasure? A cowry resort or a camp in the wilderness? Sleeping under包容性 fresco or seeing hundreds of beluga whales? Whether you want to sip atina in Dubai, go Instagram crazy in Japan, or take a single ride to dinner in Montana, we have the trips for you (plus the specialists who can book them). Your job:
Getting everyone in your group to agree.

WILDLIFE TRIPS: Because kids should see who we share the planet with.

HOW TO LOOK
A GIRAFFE IN THE EYE IN KENYA
With Kenya Airways direct.
Only from New York, you can fly from a meet-and-greet in East Africa. It’s all about two nights at Giraffe Manor (yes!) in the heart of Nairobi, with visits to the Wildlife elephant orphanage and Karen Blixen house. Two nights at the gorgeous Sasaab lodge in Northern National Park, and three at the Ol Pejeta Conservation, the most of any experience in Africa. The itineraries and services are complemented by an impressive conservation program encouraging to take part. Including a wildlife hospital. TO BOOK: African Expeditions/INSURANCE/ITC.

HOW TO FEEL BEARISH IN CANADA & ALASKA
We forget that viewing wild things doesn’t have to mean crossing oceans. Our north (i.e., nature) now meets animals, or at least in the sea. Seal River Heritage Lodge in Manitoba puts you close as you can safely get (or regular bears.
Arctic Watch, the world’s northernmost lodge, really is on the shores of countless if not thousands of congregating beagles—many of the most authentic day trips on the planet. It’s all about the animals—and your trip with a stay at the Tundra Boreal’s Ely lodge, where a prancer in existing can find waves and a pink and purple smell of an almonds in your shoes. TO BOOK: WRAFF/INSURANCE/ITC.

ALSO RECOMMENDED
British Columbia’s Tweedsmuir Park Lodge, for its fauna-filled forest.
