DEPARTURES

ESCAPE ROUTE

Switzerland, Santa and skincare are among Juliet Kinsman's travel tips this season

SWISS DELIGHT
Gstaad has been gifted a boutique beauty in time for the holidays – Le Grand Bellevue. This reincarnation of a 100-year-old palace-hotel is a colourful Bamford spa-studded stay, run by young Daniel and Davia Koetser who have conjured a uniquely relaxed take on alpine luxury. bellevue-gstaad.com

LAPLAND IN LEGO
With a Santa sleepover (7–8 and 14–24 December) at Legoland Windsor Resort Hotel, kids can meet that most merry of men. With rides, sights and shows, good times are guaranteed. Two adults and three children, from £250. legoland.co.uk

BORDEAUX BALLETS

Grand Hotel de Bordeaux and L'Opéra National de Bordeaux are in cahoots to offer culture lovers a stay that includes tickets to Prokofiev's Romeo & Juliet with exclusive backstage passes (16 December to 1 January). ghbordeaux.com

VIP TRAVEL ANDRIA MITSAKOS

Publicist and creative director of Dea Rosa. wanderista.com

Favourite hotel?
Hotel Grande Bretagne, Athens, known as 'GB' by insiders reflects the old and new of the vibrant city that I love so much. grandebretagne.gr

Best destination?
Greece and Mexico. Countries with ancient civilisations have an energy that gets under your skin. The connection to the earth, the people, the culture – their magnetism is undeniable, they draw you in and never let you leave. The best trips are never planned.

Dream weekend away?
Beachfront. No WiFi or mobile service.

Packing essentials?
Dea Rosa python sleep mask; Sephora Instant Depuffing eye masks to wear under a sleep mask; Valmont Renewing Pack is like gold in a jar for your skin; Apricot Lip Balm by the Lab Room; a grey cashmere scarf I stole from my mum's closet years ago; dusty rose jumpsuit by Dimitris Petrou for a seamless day-to-night androgynous look.
