

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

THE INTERNATIONAL DESIGN AUTHORITY

MAY 2015

DISCOVERIES

From top: The columned entrance to Jaipur's Suján Rajmahal Palace. The hotel's Mountbatten suite. A drawing room exemplifying decorator Adil Ahmad's spirited elegance.

HOTELS

PASSAGE TO INDIA

The interiors of Jaipur's Suján Rajmahal Palace hotel have been given a magical revamp befitting the regal Indian city, which has long captivated travelers with its jaw-droppingly ornate forts and rose-hued mansions. Decorated by Adil Ahmad, the new lodgings, set in a sublime 1729 maharaja's residence, feature a bevy of vivacious colors and patterns, including 48 custom-made wallpapers that reflect the area's flamboyant architectural heritage. Many suites in the property—first converted into a hotel about 35 years ago—are named for the royal family's onetime guests, among them Queen Elizabeth II and Jacqueline Kennedy. From $255/night; sujanluxury.com —ALYSSA BIRD

