

DEPARTURES ONLINE

November 2014

“..It’s striking features include the original marble staircase, extravagant chandeliers and mirrored ceilings, while Ahmad - known for creations that ally luxe with sustainability - has produced interiors that offer an eclectic mix of classic art with a modern colour palette of blue, green and pink pastel shades.”

DEPARTURES

THE ONLINE MAGAZINE FOR INTERNATIONAL PLATINUM CARD® MEMBERS

TRAVEL GOURMET STYLE CARS & BOATS ART & CULTURE HOME & PROPERTY TECH

Travel > Hotel News > Kingly Accommodations

KINGLY ACCOMMODATIONS

DEPARTURES 73 /100: Once home to many ranks of nobility and royalty, Suján Rajmahal Palace is now taking guests

John McNamara
21 November 2014

Suján Rajmahal Palace

[DEPARTURES 100] There is an undeniable regal air about the Suján Rajmahal Palace located in the heart of the “Pink City” of Jaipur.

Built in 1729 by the local Maharaja, it played host to various monarchs, princes and lords down the years and remains in the ownership of the Jaipuri royal family. Now, in conjunction with one of the continent's most distinguished hotel brands, Suján, and the renowned designer Adil Ahmad, the Suján Rajmahal Palace has been reinvented as a 20-key boutique hotel, open since November.

Its striking features include the original marble staircase, extravagant chandeliers and mirrored ceilings, while Ahmad - known for creations that ally luxe with sustainability - has produced interiors that offer an eclectic mix of classic art with a modern colour palette of blue, green and pink pastel shades.

With amenities including two restaurants, a bar, a swimming pool, and a Suján Spa, the Rajmahal is still fit for a king.

Visit the Suján Palace webpages